The Winter Court.

Ed. Bulletin.—The winter court which takes you to task for exposing in your column of the action of a large majority of the Mason county bar, in favor of repealing the winter term of our Circuit Court, has had too little experience in court, to be able to adequately argue the case upon which they undertook to enlighten the public. Before he came to the bar, for a period of many years, we had but two terms of our Circuit Court, and the business was then quite simple, and arranged in such a manner as to be easily understood by any man twice as great, at it now with four terms, and at greatly less expense to the commonwealth. If the young gentleman will consult the cases brought at those earlier old terms, he will see that they were fully as many as now. Less than forty new suits are brought to each term now, when under the old system they exceeded, at many times, two hundred. The winter docket was then fully as large as it is now.

The month of January is the worst month in the year. The courts can do but little if any, but sit every few days. Witnesses and jurors are reluctantly to court, and it is nothing less than cruelty to force them in very bad weather to do so, especially when it is only to oblige a few lawyers, who could well meet most of them, be brought in the Quarterly or Juicies Courts, as in the Circuit Court.

Grand Juries are paid $15 per day. There are sixteen of them, and they would receive no less than $240 a day, if only $15 per day. Estimate at four days and their pay would amount to $96. The petit juries numbers twenty-four and they are summoned for service eighteen just days. They are paid $2 per day, and would amount to $48 per day each, making the cost for jurors alone $96 for the term. In addition thereto is the cost of summoning the jurors, and the witnesses in the commonwealth must pay.

No one knows better what is needed than the majority of the members of the bar, to represent them, and all know better what number of courts are necessary in which to do the business, than men in the streets who usually have no business in the courts, and may be obtained to sign almost any petition which they may desire. Their representative at Frankfort knows all the members of the bar who have petitioned the legislature for a change in the number of terms of the court, and will no doubt be called upon to speak in their case to the legislature, regardless of the unprofessional action of those young members who, after participating in the meeting, rebelled against its action. Mr. Ketchum, of Louisville, has been instrumental in the way of the removal of the January term of the court when it is asked for by so many of those most interested in the subject. If there is any other county in the State which has as many as four terms of the Circuit Court, I do not remember it.

X
I Shall S'ep' Wiv Him to-Night,
Detroit Chaff.

Sometimes I believe the little ones say the best things. I have known a little family in Detroit who are heart-broken and sad this Saturday night. There were three last Saturday, but to-night only two are left. The tie which bound them more closely than ever before has been broken. Their home has lately been loosened, and the light of their lives went out with the red winter sun only the other night. The father is a railroad man, whose duties call him away from home for months at a time. It was his habit, whenever he was about to start for home, to telegraph his wife apprising her of the fact. In these telegrams he never failed to mention the name of the little four-year-old, and the disputes usually ran as follows:

"Tell Arthur I will sleep with him to-night."

The little boy was very much of these telegrams, which his mother would read to him, and he considered the "telegraph" a great institution. The other night when the fever had done its work and the mother was sobbing out her anguish, the little one turned calmly in his bed and said:

"Don't k'y, mama, I'sall s'ep' wiv Dd, 'oo know. Send Dad a telegraph and tell him I'sall s'ep' wiv him to-night." But the message went straight up there without the clicking of wires or the rustle of wings.

Those interested in the growth, sale and manufacture of tobacco will be interested to learn that for the current year, 1884, the United States is unable to furnish a sufficient quantity of the seed-leaf so largely used in the make-up of cigars, but all the Sumatra and Havana likely to be imported during the year will be required for that purpose. Statistics inform us that 317,314,738 domestic cigars were produced in this country last year. In their production 237,998 cases, of 500 pounds to a case, were used. This intelligence may not prove agreeable to those who denounce the use of tobacco in all its forms, many of whom regard the great staple as equally pernicious as ardent spirits; but it would seem to show the futility of their opposition to its use, and that it is increasing as one of the most important factors among the products of our country, a fact surely to be deplored.

SENATOR VORHES has introduced a bill to equalize the bounty paid to Federal soldiers.

SEVERE EXPERIENCE OF SAILORS.

Adrift on a Dismasted and Waterlogged Vessel and Starving In the Midst of Plenty.—A Very Timely Rescue.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—The brig Ascole, which has just arrived from France, where Captain Colle and seven sailors aboard were rescued last Wednesday from the schooner Maggie M. Rivers, off Cape Hatteras. When the schooner was sighted it was found to be dismasted and waterlogged over the deck. Captain Colle saw eight men clinging to the life ropes aft of the deck house. This seemed to be the only place of safety, as the sea was very rough and the vessel was listing in all directions. A life boat hung not twenty feet away from the sailors, who were unable to reach it, on account of the heavy sea. Captain Colle signaled to them to launch the small boat which they did after two hours hard work.

The wrecked schooner left for Ferdinandina, Fla., three weeks ago, bound for Washington, D. C. When a few miles off the coast of Capt. Hatteras on the night of the 5th inst., the vessel was caught in a violent hurricane, which completely dismasted her. Then she sprung a leak and soon became unmanageable. She was driven ashore on the night of the 6th inst., the men clinging to the life ropes, their bodies being three-quarters submerged in the water and the ship was driven ashore, where she was slowly breaking to pieces, and the remains of hunger and thirst began to assail them, yet they were powerless to reach the cabin, where water and coffee had been prepared. Captain Colle is of the opinion that the rescue took back five hours later the men would have been frost to death. The Maggie M. Rivers was worth $15,000, and was owned by Messrs. Dun & Elliott, of Thomson, Maine.

WASHINGTON CULLINGS.

General News and Gossip From the National Capital.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Mr. E. T. Merrick, of the law firm of Merrick & Co., says he has written to Senator Van Wyck's re-election, charging extravagant pay to counsel:

"Nothing to say in regard to that," he said.

When the proper time comes I may have something to say in regard to the desire of the Attorney General, and myself, as one of the counsel, to have this matter investigated. If any one has any charges let them be prepared and let me have them, and I will do my best to get justice done for a trial and I will see you."

A Bankrupt Law.
CINCINNATI, Jan. 13.—A meeting of a large number of citizens has been held at the Law Office of Trade and Service which a uniform bankrupt law should be established in all the States of the Union. Joseph Scarlett was elected Chairman, and J. F. Blackburn, Secretary. After the President had stated the object of the meeting, W. L. Morrison presented a resolution that a committee of four be appointed to visit the Legislature at Columbus and recommend what could be done in their favor toward the establishing of a uniform bankruptcy law in all the States. After the resolution had been discussed by the persons present, Joseph Hargrave moved that it be laid on the table which was done. Mr. Swift then read a resolution in favor of a national bankrupt law, based upon the rule that "the failing debtor shall make a complete surrender to his creditors in full account and receive a final release from all of his debts." Mr. Dreck then offered a substitute, stating that a uniform national bankrupt law, which protects the honest creditor and debtor and punishes fraud, is essential to the business interests of the country. It was adopted.

Parsons' Law Library.
MURKIN, Conn., Jan. 13.—A well-dressed man appeared at the hotel in this town and paid for a night's lodging. He exhibited $20 in bills and a railroad ticket for New York. He had a cold look and was steadily breathing, and it was evident he wanted to kill him." During the night he paced the floor begging for mercy from imaginary foes. This morning he stated that an overgrown反射ive had been sent to him by a lady of great wealth and beauty; the young lady's brother and four other men had determined to kill him. The avengers had followed him from Boston, his native city, bent on taking his life, and to baffle his pursuers he left the cars here. "He was put aboard the 11 o'clock south-bound train this morning by the authorities."

STAGE ROBBERY.
A Heavy Raid by a Gang of Western Road Agents.

GALVESTON, Jan. 13.—An Albion disciple of the New National Guard, Colorado River Saturday night a San Antonio stagecoach, was baited by four mounted men, who robbed the mail sacks and four passengers and then delayed the coach until the arrival of the northbound stage, which had come from San Antonio. There a large amount of registered mail in the southbound coach, and it is believed the thieves have made a heavy haul.

Billy the Kid's Gang Kill Four Men.
ST. LOUIS, Jan. 13.—A dispatch from Santa Fe, N. M., says that a few days ago four members of the lately called "the Kid" gang, named "Billy" Williams, "Tom" Eeoe, "Honey" Williams and "Tom" Hackett, got drunk and took the town of Seven Rivers by storm. On Thursday a dozen desperadoes, at least, at the Tees Valley ditch, happened to go into Seven Rivers, when they were fired upon by the four desperadoes and four of the party were killed. The murderers then rode out of town.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Jan. 13.—Advices from Little Rock say that Dr. James Bartholomew has again been the scene of a bloody murder. A planter named Peters, while on his way to Homer, was fired by parties on his trail. He fell from his horse mortally wounded. The assassins looted their victim, taking his pocket book, watch and other valuables. The tragedy occurred about two miles from Peters' dwelling. There is no clue to the murderers, but they are believed to be desperadoes. A person who, last week, killed a man named Mills, living farther down the Bayou, robbing him of between $300 and $1,000.

Highly Sensational.
MIWAUKEE, Jan. 13.—Another sensational has broken out at the enterprising suburb, Waukesha. A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Joseph Hadfield, an old and elderly citizen, on charge of the most revolting outrage, at the instance of a German girl who was formerly a domestic in Mr. Hadfield's family. Mr. Hadfield is quite elderly, a prominent member of church, and is owner of the celebrated Hadfield stone quarry.

A Wife's Appeal.
ABERDEEN, S. C., Jan. 13.—W. E. Finch, postmaster of Elgin, S. C., and examined by a special postoffice inspector on the charge of embezzlement, has waived examination before the United States Commissioners and given him back the sum of $1,000, as a deposit until he can be tried on the charge. His wife created quite a sensation at the time of his arrest by imploring the inspector, on her knees, not to prosecute the inspector, on her knees, not to prosecute charges against her husband.

Kendall's Spavin Cure.

SANTA ROSA, California, Feb. 9, 1883.
B. J. KENDALL, Co.,—Gentle:—I feel it a duty to others suffering from spavin and lamelling of the rectum to write to you. I have had spavin in my horses for over ten years, and for five years, for the past three years I have suffered the most agonizing pain. I tried every remedy known to me, and nothing would give me relief. I then heard of the use of Kendall's Spavin Cure. I have not seen or heard of any other remedy that would give me relief. I have never suffered so much pain as I did before, and I have not been able to comprehend the great joy that I felt at being cured of a disease almost incurable. I have a very young horse that had a large bunch gather on his hock, and I tried every kind of liniments and had it cut open without any benefit. Send your advertisement and bought a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure, and my teacher to use as directed. In less than a week I was cured. I am now in full health again. I am sending a liniment that would do for what Kendall's Spavin Cure has done for my horse. I have no money now, but will send you with gratitudo and best wishes for your success. I am faithfully yours,
